Jordan Rimmer is the Pastor at Northminster Church in New Castle. He has an MDIV from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and a DMIN in Semiotics and Future Studies from Portland Seminary under Dr. Leonard Sweet. His interests are in storytelling, future studies, Bible study, and 1st Century culture. Jordan and his wife Mandy have 4 children. You can find him online at www.jordanrimmer.com.

During the workshop, Pastor Jordan Rimmer will briefly look at several factors that will define the church of the future, and then talk about becoming a church that can rise to the challenges of tomorrow.

We will then break into discussion groups to unpack and dig into what was said, and think about how to turn takeaways into action points.
